7 Dock Leveller Checks

you should make on a regular basis

"Everyone knows that having a Planned Preventative Maintenance, or 'PPM' schedule, is essential, because it's the Law, and it's required for health and safety and insurance purposes.

But conducting additional checks on your dock leveller will help keep employees even more safe 'between' official checks, and will also increase the lifespan and maintain the efficiency of your equipment, because you'll be more aware of any damage or degradation to your dock levellers, and be able to take preventative action sooner.

Here are the seven checks I would highly recommend you make.
